Connected to Everything Here you get the tranquillity of nature without being isolated from anything. The house is perfectly connected by both road and public transport. You will be just a stone's throw away from Mijas and Fuengirola, with very quick access to Marbella and Málaga city (complete with its airport, port, and AVE high-speed train). A spacious home with character and views that are hard to match. A Brief Description of Miramar de los Espartales. This house has one of those stories that completely captivates you. It was originally built in the 1970s for an American diplomatic couple who, after traveling half the world, chose this corner of Mijas to retire and enjoy life. Curiously, fate would have it that years later the property passed into the hands of its current owner, who, just like the first owners, is also a great traveller. This place must have something truly special for well-travelled people to choose it as their home. The villa was designed to respect the charm and architectural style of Andalusia, using noble materials of the era that give it an authentic, robust, and stately character. A beautiful, comfortable location steeped in history, perfect for becoming your next sanctuary.
